Energy from nature

Log is an original design luminaire made from Czech crystal, whose shape faithfully copies a natural piece of wood. The authentic appearance of tree bark is emphasized by special surface treatment that was used exclusively in architecture during the Art Nouveau period.

This luminaire is made through a combination of hand-shaping and machine grinding. The size of the crystal component was determined through thorough testing, which established the most pleasant dimensions for a pendant luminaire for its owner.

Due to its unique design, the Log design is an ideal choice for modern interiors.
